I provide in-home nannying services for working families. I also have experience as a part time nanny. I have a bachelors degree in Early Childhood Education and a CDA certificate. I have experience working with infants from birth to 5 years old, toddlers from 2 to 5 years of age and preschoolers from 3 years to 5 years of age. I have experience working with babies from birth to 2 years old, toddlers from 2 to 3 years old and preschoolers from 3 to 5 years old. I am a knowledgeable nanny and am skilled at following directions and enforcing rules. I am very playful and energetic which allows me to encourage and teach the children at my care. We have a genuine appreciation for each other and are a team. I am a warm, positive, loving and nurturing caregiver. My experience as a nanny is one of a kind, I am fully committed to working and providing quality care for your children.The South African financial system is not performing as well as it can, says the South African Reserve Bank on Thursday. The South African central bank has released its latest financial system health check, indicating that although South Africa has made a number of positive improvements in the past five years, it still needs to do more work in combating bad corporate practices and weaknesses in the banking system. President Cyril Ramaphosa is under pressure from groups representing municipalities, trade unions, social workers and other civil society organisations to invoke the state of emergency clause of the Constitution, which would allow him to impose a state of economic emergency, and use the proceeds of the emergency to address the crisis. READ: Ramaphosa asks South Africans to be partners in government In a statement, the central bank says the South African financial system remains dependent on international capital inflows and foreign loans, and that this poses a threat to the stability of the financial system. The bank noted that although the international capital flows had gone into reverse in the last couple of years, foreign investment remains relatively constant at 10% of GDP. "Inflows of foreign loans have been reducing each year since 2015, contributing to the decline in foreign exchange reserves. This trend has been particularly pronounced in the Skeptics..Charter 847 Charter 847 is a New Zealand former fisheries protection vessel operated by the Department of Conservation. She was a former research vessel that has been converted for fisheries protection duties. History Charter 847 was built by W.J. Dey of Motueka for the Canterbury Fishing Company, and was launched on 2 June 1956. In 1981, Charter 847 participated in an expedition to the Antarctic Peninsula that was to include the discovery of a subglacial lake. She was one of two ships involved, the other being the former British trawler. In 1983, Charter 847 participated in an expedition to the Chilean Patagonia region to monitor the effects of increased Chilean salmon fishing on marine ecosystems. In 1985, Charter 847 operated for the Department of Conservation as an auxiliary vessel in the Fishery Protection Squadron. In 1986, Charter 847 was included in New Zealand's contribution to the Australasian Antarctic Expedition, for which she was refitted at Rothera Research Station. She joined an Australian research vessel, for part of the expedition. In September 2011, Charter 847 was used to rescue teenagers Daniel and Lauren Curtis, who had been swept out to sea on Timaru Harbour on a large wave.
