Features Key:

3 scenarios
5S on the map
Each player has his own deck of strategic cards
Specially developed lightweight cards

Instructions

1. Compare your three scenarios with your opponents. If none of your scenarios surpasses his, he is automatically defeated.
2. Doing well is never enough, since a player wins once he beats all of the opponents.
3. The player who draws and is in position remains for the next battle.

War Cards

War cards cover the following subjects :

- All manner of munitions, tactical orders
- Special Quick cards
- Deception cards
- Barbarian cards

Rule:

Up to three of them can be in a player's hand

War cards are put face up when the opponent makes a move

Following the animation of the cards in the over head, the opponent chooses his card. If he sees his War card in the master pile, he has to draw a War card against it.

No War card can be drawn in the spirit pile

Players can use one card each turn. When no exception fits the turn, a card is drawn against the card in the master pile.

Note:

A player can use one War card during his turn. If it prevents to use any other War cards, the card is exhausted, and if it prevents to use any other cards, it is exhausted.

War cards can exhaust other cards, even cards from the other piles.

Sweden, 1945. The Nazis have conquered the world. The war is over, but a lone soldier fights on, trying to delay their advance. His goal: to corrupt the minds of every citizen, so they turn on one another and start a new, merciless world war. But there are others out there who still have the strength to fight for the future of mankind. * The Hogoworm dungeon, the ultimate game to escape from the Nazi's. 1. Controls: Try to avoid the red spiders! Press 'V' to interact with objects. For example, press 'V' to use an energy sphere or press 'V' to change direction. Press 'X' to execute a special attack (example: 'X' when a special digger robot is approaching). 2. In-game hint: Use the training session to learn more. 3. About My Games: My name is Daniel Beckman (BOOEY! I know I could have gone with "Bobby" but I felt like an extra from '70s Bob Hope movie, calling 'em "Bobby"'s and "Bobby's"), I'm a game developer from Stockholm, Sweden and I make this game because I love making games. This means that sometimes my games might be quite rubbish and I might even make mistakes. But... THAT'S the way I like it! Don't pay attention to the minimalistic story line. Just jump into the game and start swapping bricks. How to play: On the left side of the screen you can choose between 6 different game-modes. Use the normal game-mode if you just want to swap bricks and see how many times you can do that before you get to the ending. For a more challenging experience, switch to expert mode (hold the back key for 3 seconds) or rainbow mode (hold the right key for 3 seconds). Each level consists of 50 levels. If you complete a level, you see that its picture is restored. Afterwards, you see another picture in the same picture gallery and a picture in the gallery is changed to the picture you just finished. Your goal is to restore as many pictures as possible. You also want to swap the bricks the fastest you can in order to get more points. You can also swap more than one brick at a time. Just hold down the shift key while you swap the bricks. For the sake of time, it would be better not to do this. During the game you can collect 100 achievements. To unlock them, you need to complete each level within 4 to 6 seconds. To swap a brick with a picture, just click on it. You have only 25 to 35 seconds to swap as many bricks with pictures as possible. If you like the game, you can unlock a secret achievement by swapping more than 8 bricks with pictures in expert mode.

Risk factors for hepatitis C virus infection in older people with diabetes mellitus. To examine the relationship between clinical, biochemical and demographic factors and hepatitis C virus (HCV) infection in people with diabetes. A case-control study was carried out, with matched sets of cases and controls selected from a prospective cohort study. Participants had undergone a baseline screening for HCV in the National Diabetes Survey of the UK. A total of 1040 people with diabetes (mean age 58, 69% male) were matched with a random sample of people without diabetes (mean age 62, 51% male) from the same cohort. The main outcome measures were the relationships between an initial, unadjusted comparison of risks in the two groups. Logistic regression was
