Wright was the son of a Cleveland grocer and raised in the same section of the city. He graduated from Central High School in 1919 and accepted a football scholarship at Western Reserve University, where he was a guard on the football team and a halfback on the basketball team. He graduated in 1923 after four years at Western Reserve and then accepted a football coaching position at the University of Pittsburgh, where he played for the Panthers during their inaugural season in 1926 and returned to serve in a similar position until 1939. In 1928, Wright coached at Mansfield College of Pennsylvania (now University of Massachusetts Mansfield) and at the University of Akron. He later coached the freshmen team at the University of Missouri, then remained an assistant to Ara Parseghian at the University of Notre Dame. He married Alice May Stevens and was inducted into the University of Missouri Athletic Hall of Fame in 1987.
