How do I make an image-based function in MATLAB? All I found was about image pixels-wise matrix operations but not about images. A: In your case it would be something like function $[x,y,edge] = imagefun(im)$ $x = im(:,:,1)$; $y = im(:,:,2)$; $edge = im(:,:,3)$; The rows of x and y represent the individual pixels while the column gives the XYZ coordinates (if im is a 3D image). The edge cell has the values that correspond to the edge of your image. Q: Do I need be physically present to log in to a web site and enjoy my rewards? I have an Amazon account, a Paypal account and a couple of credit cards. Each of the aforementioned accounts has a reward program associated with them, which I can access through the web. Each of the rewards programs require an account number to be entered. None of them state I have to be physically present to enter the account number, nor do they state I have to be physically present to enjoy the reward. Are these accounts usable and accessible without being physically present? A: According to the Terms and Conditions of these programs, you are required to be physically present to access the system and collect your rewards. To see if it's possible you can access the account without being physically present, you'd have to contact the program via their support page. If they still won't let you use it, it's likely that the program is simply trying to prevent fraud. Bacterial RNA polymerases: potent targets for antiviral research.
